I like to go lane swimming, but the closest rec centre is the Village Square centre, which is pretty far. Not too bad a commute by car, so long as you don't try to go during rush hour. I really would like to ensure whatever rec centre gets built nearby has a pool. Could it also be one of those salt-water warmer ones too? The Vecova centre near the U of C is closing down, and I loved to swim there when I was a student. It was great for physio and as someone who has body temperature regulation problems, it was nice to not freeze getting into the water. I also think there is a need for pools that can do physiotherapy, and there aren't many in the city.

Indoor Tennis court

basketball and swimming

I think indoor tennis courts would be perfect for the new recreational facility. North East does not have good quality tennis courts, and the closest indoor ones are 30 minutes drive from Redstone, and that too without any traffic. Accounting for traffic, it has always taken us more than 35 minutes and at times, a little over an hour. With the increased popularity of tennis in Canada, it's one of the most likely sports that young people are taking up. Tennis courts can also accommodate pickleball courts, which is one of the most likeable sports for adults and older people due to its low impact on joints. All this makes a strong case for there to be indoor tennis courts at this new facility. Indoor swimming pool would be another very good facility as the nearest ones to us is Genesis, which is quite crowded.

Pool/gymnasiums more MULTIcultural and diversity to different sports

I believe it would be great to have a mix of activities that serve different age groups and interests. Some ideas include indoor sports leagues (like volleyball, badminton, or futsal), fitness and wellness classes (yoga, Zumba, strength training), after-school programs for kids and teens, arts and crafts workshops, music or dance classes, senior fitness and social clubs, and community movie or game nights. Having a space for cultural events and educational workshops would also help bring people together and support community learning.

Volleyball

Gym, swimming pool, event halls, badminton court

Greenspaces, splash parks, playgrounds, ice arena, tennis courts, swimming pool, climbing wall, multipurpose areas

Swimming Lessons. Genesis Centre and Vivo are the 2 closest and are too far away / fill-up very quickly. Ice Skating - there are no arenas anywhere along Country Hills NE corridor. If a facility would be nearby, we would be able to be active getting to and from the facility (ie. walking, running, scootering or biking to/from home and the facility). This would be amazing and encourage more participation from our family.

Ice skating in winter. Proper outdoor hockey rinks and separate pleasure skating rinks

Swimming classes, Steam rooms, other kids or adults sports activities such as badminton, tennis, soccer, gym, kids arts/hobby building programs,

Swimming, skating, art classes like painting pottery, therapeutic facilities (stretching etc)

"In the future, I would love to see more community-wide outdoor events like seasonal festivals, Book fair, open-air movie nights, and farmers markets. These kinds of gatherings create a sense of belonging and give people of all ages a chance to connect.

I'd also like to have more organized recreational programs, such as group fitness bootcamps, or sports tournaments for both adults and kids. These promote healthy lifestyles and help build friendships.

Another area I hope will grow is creative and skill-building workshops—like art classes, music sessions, cooking demos, or even gardening clubs. These activities are not only fun, but they also help people learn, express themselves, and share talents.

Finally, having more inclusive programs that bring together different age groups—such as intergenerational events or mentorship programs—would make the community even stronger."

We should have a community Center like Vivo and Genesis.

"Because I am a caucasian person living in a predominant South Asian community, I would love the opportunity for language classes to be held, to help communicate with my neighbours who may not speak English. This goes both ways--I want to be able to learn some basic Hindi/Punjabi/Tamil/Arabic and for them to be able to take English classes. Those types of connections can help naturalize new Canadians into our culture and introduce born Canadians to new rich art, culture, music, dance, etc.

There's been a lot of uncomfortable political rhetoric around immigration and I think that helping immigrants integrate into our culture is a much more productive and compassionate method than trying to kick them out or keep them from coming in. But we need places where these types of activities can take place and clear and loud messaging to make people aware that this resource is here."

6. What do you think makes a good area for spectators?

Not sure

Appropriate viewing angles for the sport/activity at hand. Good access to the viewing area. Reasonable comfort.

Between Redstone and Cornerstone so everyone have eaey access

Rink

Sunset watching points in cold weather bone fires area and cultural painting on walls always looks good like downtown playing cards for elders

Place for people to hang out and spend time with each other, doing things they enjoy.

Good seating area

An area with seating. Like an auditorium or hockey arena.

Bleachers around a volleyball court comfortable seating

Robust, easy to clean, comfortable seating; enough seating for the sport at hand (if there are 20 players engaged, then at least double that number of seating for family/friends spectating).

Seating and amenities

If an area/spot requires parents to look after their kids or participate or appreciate as a family makes sense. Other than that, use the space for activities rather than creating too many places for spectators

Benches and risers, railings to help you walk on and off

Comfortable and spacious seats, not those very compact ones,

Indoor facility with comfortable seating and family/senior discounts

Do not need spectators around pool, gym and library. May be in common areas or outside.

"Clear Sightlines: Unobstructed views of the main event or field are essential. Tiered or elevated seating helps.

Comfortable Seating: Seats with back support, adequate legroom, and protection from weather (e.g., shade or cover) enhance the experience.

Accessibility: The area should be easy to reach and navigate, with accessible options for individuals with disabilities.

Safety: Barriers, railings, and crowd control measures ensure spectators are safe, especially in large or high-energy environments.

Amenities: Nearby restrooms, concessions, and water stations add convenience and reduce the need to leave the area.

Sound and Visual Systems: Good audio (for announcements or commentary) and large screens (for replays or close-ups) improve engagement.

Atmosphere: A good spectator area often fosters a communal and energetic environment, enhancing enjoyment through shared excitement."

We should have a community Center like Vivo and Genesis.

seating area

Open and wide range areas full lighting and easy way to go by public transport.

Seating area with a nice view. Also accessible and has enough room for people.

I don't think it's necessary to have an area for spectators as we need more activities for people who really enjoy by participating in it

I think a seating area that is reasonably distanced away from the play area is a good idea. Something like bleachers or comfortable benches.

Enclosed, indoor space with seating. Weather can ruin an event and if we're talking things like music festivals, it would be more courteous to keep the sound contained as to not disturb those not participating. But the most important of all: EASY ROAD ACCESS. Nobody likes being held up in traffic in their own backyard after an event, and from a health and safety perspective, people need to be able to exit an area quickly in the event of an emergency, like fire.

Refreshments and good seating. Climate control bleachers or aerial viewing

If spectators are there performers have enthusiasm to perferm even better it could be any lobby with benches installed for parents or any attendees there.

Accessibility and garbages

Clean and welcoming environment

sport’s activity

Protected area (different level or glass/net) and multi level benches, perhaps a bar/pub/grill with seating for spectators should be covered and around the playing area with less number of tiers for better viewing and saving space for other games as well

Social gatherings

One which can work in all weather, have enough parking space and sitting arrangements that can enhance the viewing experience.

Something covered and well spaced out with priority for families with small children

Good sightlines and comfortable seating

Spacious seats, space to eat and enjoy

A good area for spectators should have comfortable seating with clear sightlines, shade or weather protection, accessible pathways for individuals with mobility challenges, and nearby amenities like washrooms, water fountains, and food options. Safety, cleanliness, and a welcoming atmosphere are also key to enhancing the overall experience.

At the same level as the activity is taking place, not from above or higher level.

Should have space to sit and some refreshments available in the area

It is very important to have community hub areas for spectators. These spaces allow family and friends to support participants, especially during sports, swim lessons, or cultural events. Comfortable seating areas with good visibility, heating/air conditioning, and maybe even a small café or snack area would make the hub more welcoming and family-friendly.

“A good spectator area is one that offers clear and unobstructed views of the activity or event, with safe and comfortable seating or standing space. It should be well-marked, separated from active work zones or playing areas, and have barriers if needed for safety. Shade, seating, and access to amenities like washrooms and water are also important, especially for families or seniors. Additionally, it should be easily accessible for people with disabilities and have proper signage to guide spectators. These features help ensure everyone has an enjoyable and safe viewing experience.”

A good area for spectators should have comfortable seating with good visibility of the activity or event. It should be safe, shaded or weather-protected if outdoors, and accessible for people of all ages and abilities, including those with mobility challenges. Clear signage, clean restrooms nearby, and access to refreshments also help create a welcoming and enjoyable experience. If possible, having a designated family or quiet zone can also be a great addition.

"I'd love more music and theatre here!! It would give us a stage for hosting dances, plays, and other music based activities. It would also help us learn more about acting or playing instruments. There's a lot of musicians but nowhere for us to practice or perform. Even having some practice rooms available would help.

There are usually small community events happening all the time like bazaars, melas, shows etc. We need space to house them. I'd come to watch.

I love soccer so I'd like to watch some good games on good turf. Same with basketball. Watching tennis or badminton would be good too as long as we're away from stricking distance"

"I would love to see a variety of arts, cultural, and sports activities in our community. Live performances such as local theater productions, music concerts, and dance showcases would be a fantastic way to bring people together and celebrate local talent. Cultural events like festivals, art exhibits, and storytelling sessions would help highlight the diversity and history of our community while fostering a sense of connection and pride.

In terms of sports, I would enjoy watching community tournaments for soccer, basketball, and volleyball, as well as family-friendly activities like indoor fitness classes and recreational sports leagues. These events encourage physical wellness, strengthen community bonds, and provide a space for all ages to come together and participate.

Having these activities available at the community center would create a vibrant and inclusive space where residents can connect, learn, and enjoy entertainment close to home"

Ice hockey, Soccer, Basketball

Basketball. Engaging and interesting

Community event place , volleyball, swimming pool, gymnasium

Tennis, volleyball, basketball

I would watch soccer because it is very entertaining and cool to see opponents doing their best.

Keeping on theme, I'd love to be able to watch local artists--smaller events celebrating local culture. It doesn't have to be limited to the South Asian population here in the NE--it could be indie Calgarian artists or indigenous artists. Please do not have an arena where you plan to host someone like Taylor Swift. If this is a rec centre for the residents of the neighbouring communities, the last thing it needs is for people to fly in from all over the globe. There are other venues for that type of event and this rec centre should be for the residents of Calgary, especially those in the neighbouring communities to the centre.

Introduction to Canadian culture and way of life classes would be great. We must showcase something beyond just hockey and skiing. I feel many immigrants have a very negative view of the First Nations, partly because of their lack of knowledge about history and lack of context. A small area that introduces people to the old and new cultures of Canada and showcases a distinct identity beyond multiculturalism would be good. 9. What should The City consider when providing spaces that support diverse cultures and preserve heritage?

Not sure

Having it open to the public, so that people who are not part of a particular culture have the opportunity to learn and take part.

common area

Library

Food festivals and drinks all around the country

That it should not just favour one particular community in this case Sikh community

A place that everyone would fit, a place where it is clean and well maintained. Hopefully a place that doesn't exclude the NE and have something wonderful as the rest of the city.

What sports are played the most and what is missing in area

asif

It should have an acknowledgement and representation of indigenous practices. I think that even offering traditional recreational activities would be fun.

cooking facilities (like those in Edmonton), indoor and outdoor spaces for fairs and farmers market, specialty supermarkets

Flexibility to run cultural events

Classes hosted by people of different cultures and ethnicities to get with others to help revitalize their culture if they are out of touch with it.

Inclusiveness

Idk

affordable, accessible and diversity across all communities needs not just one. Identify what amenities are scarce in the New North, freely accessible / affordably bookable; appropriately managed and maintained regularly; shared and private spaces; building community fabrics

Keeping spaces clean and encouraging people to take care of the slave they use consult with cultural groups, incorporate culturally appropriate design elements, materials, Accessibility and inclusion, multi-language signs, create spaces which can accommodate various cultural activities, Set-up feedback mechanisms to adapt and improve over time, Respect cultural practices related to land use, seasons, and sustainability.

I think since a lot of elder citizens within the N.E. like coming to the complex to play cards/ socialize- there should be a separate area for them to do this. I understand they want to socialize too but a pool/ fitness area isn't the place to play cards so in order to prevent that maybe have a separate area for that type of social mingling within the complex

Not sure what this question means, in terms of recreational spaces the only culture is the Canadian standard, I mean it is made as per and operated and maintained as per what has been benchmark of other Canadian government facilities

Design the centre based on the culture

Indoor/outdoor space with lots of parking

Respect the religion.

"1. Community Engagement

Involve local communities—especially underrepresented and Indigenous groups—in planning and decision-making.

Conduct inclusive outreach to ensure different voices are heard and needs are understood.

2. Cultural Representation

Ensure that public art, signage, and architecture reflect the histories, languages, and identities of diverse cultures.

Support cultural centers, museums, or storytelling spaces that highlight both longstanding and newer community narratives.

3. Accessibility and Inclusion

Design spaces to be physically and economically accessible to all (e.g., free entry, wheelchair access, multilingual resources).

Ensure safety and a welcoming atmosphere for people of all backgrounds, including racialized communities, newcomers, LGBTQ+ individuals, and elders.

4. Preservation and Adaptation

Protect historic sites and landmarks tied to cultural heritage, while allowing for adaptive reuse that keeps them relevant to present needs.

Provide grants or zoning protections for cultural hubs (e.g., Chinatown, Little Ethiopia, Indigenous gathering places) at risk of displacement.

5. Programming and Support

Offer ongoing funding and resources for cultural events, festivals, language classes, and artistic expression.

Partner with local artists, cultural organizations, and schools to activate spaces meaningfully.

6. Equitable Development

Be mindful of gentrification risks. Cultural investment should benefit existing residents, not displace them.

Use community benefit agreements when redeveloping neighborhoods rich in cultural heritage."

We should have a community Center like Vivo and Genesis.

All

Respect and collaboration

I don’t have any ideas

Cater to all demographics not just the NE majority (Indian) activities

Inclusiveness

I don’t know

All communities

There are people from many different cultures and religions living in an area. Designing spaces focused mainly on one culture or religion alienates the others.

Capacity

Noise bylaws, Parking, Traffic, Inclusion for all cultures, Canadian culture and history

Prayer rooms or some entirely private areas like this can benefit us greatly, along with things like artworks and stories plastered on the walls, available for a nobody wishing to learn.

I would like it to be more Canadian. Yes it’s good to be diverse but we are in Canada so I would like to learn how to be more Canadian

Respect of all cultures

having a prayer room or a multifaith room

Idk

Education and ways to participate

Provide facilities that solve problems. Offer places where Muslim Canadians can wash their feet rather than complain about how that's weird. Offer spaces that encourage people to mingle with other cultures. As a Sikh, I don't just want to enjoy who I am, I want to learn what my fellow Canadians are. We are becoming a country of segregated groups. Let's design a place that encourages families to learn about other cultures. Host days and events that let people learn about certain ethnicities and their cultures. Give people incentives to show up for these events and not just the ones that celebrate their own culture. Hopefully this makes sense.

Community events

Talk to the community, consider the elderly who are isolated, hire people that understand the culture to conduct the interviews and act as cultural representatives

Proper architecture. Proper sitting place and good design. Big enough for people

Make sure every activity has a enough space for it

I don’t need so many cultural activities/space personally

Consider the large amount of Asian families that populate the corner of the NE. Largely South Asian but still many Central, East, and Southeast Asians live here. Many of these cultures are often ignored in planning and shunned from their contributions to Calgary society. Please consider that there are many multigenerational homes in the NE. Consider that there are many families with young children here as well. We don't even have enough school space to support these communities, so there's not much for our youth to do. Recognizing that these cultures are centered on community is absolutely important. We need spaces that can support grandfather's meeting to discuss politics and play cards. A space to support grandmother's wanting to sing and share cooking tips. A space that has flexible seating options as many like to sit on the ground, while others need mobility supports. A space that has multiple languages through out.

Indentation room

Parking, enough entery and exits

Let the east asian have there own space like Diwali to celebrate to. Somewhere far and inclusive they cant disturb other people in the middle of the night.

"Safety and security of public privacy for men and woman

affordable

The diversity of people within the community and including every race and culture in the planning and decision making.

Halls, food truck, event opportunities

Provide space for cultural dance perhaps a theater

Demographics of the area, and the number or people living in particular area. Number of facilities is not enough.

"First, spaces should be designed with community input, allowing residents from different cultural backgrounds to share their needs and traditions. This ensures that facilities are reflective of the people they serve.

Second, there should be dedicated areas for cultural celebrations, exhibitions, and performances, allowing communities to showcase their heritage through art, music, and storytelling. Partnerships with local cultural organizations and Indigenous groups would also help create programs that educate and celebrate history.

Third, accessibility is crucial spaces should be welcoming for all ages, abilities, and socioeconomic backgrounds. Providing multilingual signage, diverse food options, and culturally inclusive events would enhance the experience for everyone."

More ancient touch to the building. Multi lingual signs and multi cultural decor.

"Multiuse spaces to cater to all cultures.

This area already has a lot of spaces catering to a specific group only."

Promote Canadian history and culture

Preserve canadianisation along with immigrant's culture.

City is already taking option base polls which is good!

Should include all culture and not just for one group

Rules and regulations should be strict in that area and all the cultures should have equal representation.

As we have all sorts of community

Respectful for each culture and ready to accommodate requests accordingly consult those who are knowledgeable in preserving their own culture and heritage.

Na

To ensure no bylaws are disregarded and/or disrespected. There should be enforcements.

city should consider different sport and cultures in mind. also, consider that every one can get opportunity to play or do events. enough space and organized setup with considerable fees.

Sport is the most important thing that put people of diverse cultures together. We have seen that with soccer.

Seared and secure environment

Bringing people at one place to learn about each other and assimilate.

ampitheatre

Ability to host festivals is important. That a space isn't exclusive to solely one community. Beyond that the city doesn't have any requirement to preserve culture.

Asking the community and work accordingly to give utmost respect to cultural beliefs

Siting area, community hall

Respect their culture & beliefs

more events

Safety and security

Adequate indoor seating area. An indoor auditorium would be a good idea

This is one that is hard to answer as everyone has strong opinions both positive and negative.

Should have real population data of area like exact number of people (including citizen, p r , work permit or visitor visa holder)

Design-wise, spaces should be flexible to accommodate events like festivals, ceremonies, and workshops.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SIGNIFICANCE

Good to celebrate our difference and the diversity of our community

Recognize our culture - Filipino

Public art would be nice, either indoors or outdoors, and should showcase the different cultures instead of just one.

"Ease of access to spaces

Walkability

big open space that is flexible, portable stage, chairs bleachers can be configured as appropriate to event

Open spaces, private washrooms for different genders

Language barriers sometimes people from different ethnicities don't fully able yo understand English. Different spots for different sport's

Just hoping that you consider “diversity” and not just favor East Indian culture primarily because they’re the biggest minority group in the whole NE area

Space Available for community groups to rent

NA

Keep it in good maintainance time to time and update it

Decentre [removed] and centre Indigeneity instead. Put racialized people into decision making position.

Ensuring that all guests are satisfied with the experience. Providing enough room for large people to gather and enjoy their food snacks and music.

It’s help to community and new generation

The city should consider security in order to ensure there are no intruders that wish to disrupt the peace of those trying to honour their cultures and preserve their unique and important heritage.

I think there should definitely be some consideration and recognition of the indigenous peoples upon whose land our city is built. I definitely want to make sure that in addition to everything mentioned previously that they also have a welcome space. I think there should also be activities that introduce new Canadian families to Canadian events, but some of the modest ones. (I.e. I think building a hockey arena would be a waste as that is a sport that requires a large financial commitment between fees, equipment costs, and time demands. A lot of residents are working class in this area, and I don't think a hockey arena would see much use. But lacrosse might be a better fit.)

Multilingual support

cooking facilities, storage space, parking and all round transit access, ie dedicated and subsidized bus route...youth engagement programs spaces with parallel amenities...ie. go to high schools and ask the kids there what they want to see built for them to get off the streets

All the cultures have something special to celebrate since it is cultural diverse part of the city so city should provide space with big gyms or halls so it can accommodate more people plus enough parking because when at these events parking is a big issue.

NOTHING, CANADIAN CULTURE [removed]

If they are looking for those type of spaces reach out to those communities to see what would best support them. Gather that information to the general public and see how both cultures would benefit or use those spaces .

Freedom and less bureaucracy

Providing bigger spaces for cultural event, medium capacity part spaces etc

Public safety and the maintainance of these spaces. Maintaing the cleanliness, the building and the nature around.

Inclusivity, affordability accessibility

Take feedback from community members and construction should be done keeping future population growth in mind

Inclusion

They need to consider transportation to that area, and parking in that area. Locals in an area can become very upset if they are blocked in by an event and can't live their lives.

Consulting with a group of that particular background.

That we are on native land

recreational hall

some area should be solid concrete while some should have grass with space for bonfire

Safe environment for diverse cultures. There should be a security system to enter the facility, like a ID card to tap and enter and guest passes for first timers or temporary visitors.

Enough rentavlet space need to be provided for people or adjustable rooms need to be planned that can fit any size events. Small - medium - large events. To support good spectator events - enough sitting and parking space need to be there so nearby residents are not bothered by such events.

No symbols or pictures of living beings

The City should ensure that spaces are designed with cultural inclusivity in mind—this includes flexible, multi-use spaces that can accommodate various traditions, celebrations, and gatherings. Community consultation is key to understanding specific cultural needs. It's also important to incorporate heritage elements such as public art, storytelling installations, and language representation to preserve and honor the histories of all cultural groups in Calgary.

When a centre is built, allow for rental space for events (in the evening) so that people can meet away from residences.

That you include all cultures and stop catering to specific demographics

An education about the foundation of a helathy cross culturally interation knowledge be available any time on internet, with true cross culturally community members demonstrate some simple, basic skills. For example, a Hong Kong origin family interacts with southeast Indian family, or a Philippinal family interact with a Korean family & etc.

Inclusiveness and greenery

Timing so it can coincide with holidays.

To let more than one culture take the lead in events.

Hire members of the community to be in charge of planning any events

Everyone can access

The area it's in and the people

Include activities for all group of people. Considering the NE as a most diverse section of the city, city should encourage all diversity's to engage in survey for future plans

Diverse history

For improving physical fitness, open gymnastics

Make it diverse and not specific to just one culture that lives in this area.

Dynamic and modular spaces that can be converted into whatever the community needs.

"1. Inclusive Community Engagement: Involve diverse cultural groups in the planning process to ensure their voices, traditions, and values are reflected in the space.

2. Cultural Representation: Design spaces that celebrate different cultural identities through art, architecture, language signage, and events."

"Cultural Representation: Reflect diverse cultures through art and traditions.

Accessibility: Ensure physical and social inclusivity.

Community Input: Involve diverse groups in design and programming.

Multilingual Support: Provide signage and information in multiple languages.

Cultural Events: Host activities celebrating various cultures.

Respect for Heritage: Honor the history and heritage of different groups.

Safety and Respect: Create a safe, welcoming space for all.

Sustainability: Incorporate eco-friendly designs."

Openness

Not sure

Sim

Keep in mind for all the culture fetival celebrations

City should Consider the population of East Indian communities and the diversity they bring from India. India is a diverse country by itself. There are different communities that originate from India. And each community has different cultural traditions and requirements. For example, the Saddletown Genesis Centre is always filled with Punjabi community and they are forcing others communities to support Khalistan ideologies which is not the community centre are designed for. They are bringing politics into a community centre. Avoiding such activities would help other communities from India to be included in community centres. Other communities from India are people from Different provinces such as Telangana, Andhrapradesh, Karnataka, Bengal etc.

Accessibility to masses

Yes

"Cultural Inclusivity: Reflect and respect the needs of diverse cultural groups.

Accessibility: Ensure spaces are easy to access for everyone, including those with disabilities.

Representation of Heritage: Incorporate elements that showcase Calgary’s history and cultural diversity.

Community Engagement: Involve communities in the planning and design process.

Multi-Use Functionality: Design spaces for various activities and events.

Safety and Comfort: Ensure spaces are safe, clean, and welcoming for all.

Sustainability: Use environmentally friendly materials and practices.

Cultural Education: Provide opportunities for cultural learning and exchange.

Representation in Decision-Making: Include local cultural leaders in the planning process.

Balancing Modern Development with Heritage Preservation: Blend new developments with the preservation of historical sites."

The city should ensure there is enough space for culture as well as Canadian culture appropriate programs

To focus on diverse cultures and maybe do heritage weeks/ fairs

Open performance space and inviting atmosphere

Better parking, Transit Accessibility, Indoor or outdoor play area for small kids

Remember original newcomers from the UK . Keep religion out of cultural events. Even though Alberta has a young population relative to other provinces, spaces should be offered for 50+ age groups in balance with young families. Single people need places to make new connections.

Something for everything cultures and preserve heritage, The City should prioritize inclusivity, equitable access, and meaningful engagement with diverse communities. I think the most important part of being multicultural and preserving heritage is that while we understand that today's norms have changed, that our ancestors lived in less tolerant cultures. While it has become absurd to suggest that the government remain unbiased in preserving our history and culture, this is still what I would suggest. The City should use its best judgment in determining what represents our culture, even if it is a reminder of past sins. But, we should also seek to be proud of our past, and those who came before us to build this city.

"Community Engagement: Involve local communities—especially those whose cultures and heritage are being represented—in the planning, design, and decision-making processes. This ensures authenticity and builds trust.

Representation and Inclusivity: Ensure that spaces reflect the stories, traditions, and values of a wide range of cultural groups, not just dominant or historically recognized ones. This includes both visible elements (art, signage, language use) and programmatic offerings (festivals, workshops, performances).

Accessibility: Make cultural and heritage spaces physically, socially, and economically accessible to all residents, including marginalized and underserved communities.

Cultural Sensitivity and Respect: Approach design and programming with cultural competence. Avoid tokenism or appropriation, and ensure spaces are welcoming and respectful to all users.

Historical Preservation: Protect and integrate heritage buildings, sites, and landscapes in a way that honors their significance while adapting them for modern community use when appropriate.

Education and Awareness: Use these spaces to educate the public about the histories and contributions of diverse cultural communities, helping to build mutual understanding and social cohesion.

Sustainability and Longevity: Invest in long-term maintenance, funding, and evolving programming so these spaces remain relevant and meaningful over time."

Activities like arts and crafts designed to connect diverse populations to their culture would be an excellent start. It can help people bond and build new relationships with people that are in the same group as them.

I think whatever activities are presented, the organizers should have some people who are familiar with the culture the event is being made for. If we want integration between the diverse groups, it needs to be presented in a way that appeals to the population it's targeting. Put bluntly, it can't come across as some "[removed] thing". There needs to be a blend of marketing styles. There are lots of groups that want to diversify their demographics and state their event/group is for everyone but then don't know how to reach those group effectively, and inevitably one group is disproportionately represented than the other. A personal example: I once went to a church service I'd been invited to and the greeters were very enthusiastically welcoming me as a newcomer. I was confused how they knew I was new (maybe the church is actually smaller than I thought?) until I walked in and everyone was Filipino except for a couple other people. It was a lovely church and I attended for some time until I had to move, but I was still one of the very few non-Filipino people for the duration of my attendance. They too told me their church was open to everyone, but didn't know how to market to a more diverse group of Christians.

Activities that bring together people from diverse backgrounds should be inclusive, culturally sensitive, and community-building. Good examples include multicultural festivals, cooking classes featuring international cuisines, language exchange groups, art and music workshops, community gardening, sports leagues with mixed teams, and storytelling or cultural sharing nights. These types of activities create opportunities for people to learn from each other, build friendships, and foster respect and understanding across cultures.

All sports activities, a community hub Older generation love to sit and gossip/play. This sometimes takes seating from parents who are in park for kids. There should be an ample space for the seniors where they can hang out.

15. What else should The City consider when planning the new recreation and community hub in Skyview Ranch?

Basketball courts and little outdoor space

Parking and public transit access should be easy to use to get there

Make it a leisure centre like village square and southland

Keep it year round

Add colf carts for easy transport

Make sure to keep ample land around it for future and not make apartments ther like you made it in gensis center saddle town, also spent less on green space like lawns as they are useless for 7 months in the year covered with snow. More then 1 swimming pool and make some tennis court outside

NA

Consider that this community is as important as the other parts of the city

The need for swimming pools and tennis courts

asif

I think the city should try to be innovate. We have a lot of the same thing in the city with our community centres. This would be the first new one in a long time and Calgarys a different city now with different needs. I think this is an opportunity to offer something new to the community transit accessible, reasonable parking

Affordable membership fee

Please consider the classes (for any ages) and some community hall that can be rented for parties or etc

Big pool with slides. Don't ruin like genesis where no water park

N/A

Lower fees for community members so that its accessible to more people

Badminton training

Be mindful of the people around the community. If there is a school have a certain amount of access. The kids at Nelson Mandela ruin the vibes of Genesis center.

Have a volleyball court or courts

Please put more chairs and tables for seniors to sit. So that they can spend quality time with their friends.

Big building as there is lots of space. We want as much as possible. So plz don't do cheap work. Add big pool and everything Equitable amenities across multiple communities and groups, not just one. Also identifying amenities that are lacking in this are and consider including those. Such as picnic areas, tennis courts, ice arenas. The current Genesis Centre pool facilities are not big enough to service the volume of attendance and lessons. It was built too small. Just compare Rocky Ridge YMCA to Genesis Centre YMCA there is a huge difference in offerings, activities and amenities. We need a Rocky Ridge sized facility here, not a Genesis-sized one.

"Consider our environment. Most year-round use would be indoors, so prioritizing those facilities are more important to me and would be used much more often.

Access - via transit (Future C-Train stop, Main Bus routes), easily accessible by foot, bike, and car

Architecturally blending in with the surroundings (ie. don't build a concrete jungle, but also have something that is fun, functional and appealing to visit!)"

Keeping the grounds clean and well maintained. Green spaces here are turning into dirt mounds

Women's only pool!!!! There is no women's only pool in Calgary and it would be a game changer if we are able to get one for this new recreation centre.

Having a separate place for elders to play cards otherwise they take the whole area up just like in genesis center- and kids stop going. It's important to allow everyone to use the space respectfully so it would be nice to give them a different area/ room so they don't take up the whole lobby. And I think a good way of doing that is actually to have multiple buildings and a pathway that connects them! Instead of one large building

I personally like laid out rules and in spaces like these , those rules should be enforced properly, to put this in example, when I go to Skyview school park/ground,although it is a community space but it lacks enforcement of certain rules to make it a safer place for children. The toddler swing is right next to kid's (5-12) and they have different energy. Found my toddler to be in unsafe situation many times. Same goes for the slide and other activity areas. I have participated in activities such as cricket and volleyball too in this location but in community hub all should be done by proper booking for time slots and not on first come first serve basis.

Trees and beautiful building

A large sport centre dedicated to sports of every kind; basketball, tennis, soccer, baseball, and even golf. Possibly even a bike trail/obstacle course for people who love to challenge themselves with mountain biking.

Need to maintain the facility properly. Need proper security of the center.

Consider the recreational center to be modeled as closely as possible to create a YMCA, please. This is needed for many of us.

Don’t Cater to just the demographic of people live nearby but to all Canadians

Make it as soon as possible we are waiting and really excited

inlcude local artists

Parking spaces close to facility so we don’t have to walk far in the cold and slippery spaces from the car to get inside.

Lots of social gathering space for elderly with limited mobility

Indoor tennis is all me and my circle of friends ask for. We need to drive to the southwest during the winters, which is not at all convenient at our age of 72.

Please include a good quality library with actual books.

"The gamePLAN report reveals that 5.8% of respondents want tennis courts, and an even greater 12.5% want pickleball courts. What’s remarkable is that a single tennis court can serve both sports, a model already in use across Canada and the U.S. Facilities like the City of Burnaby’s recreation center have successfully scheduled alternating days for each sport — tennis on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays; pickleball on the remaining days.

When combined, tennis and pickleball represent 18.2% of respondent demand — second only to pools and aquatic facilities. That's more than Arenas and Rinks (13.8%), Disc Golf (13.4%), and Indoor Soccer (12.9%). By including multi-use courts in the new facility, we not only maximize space but also meet the needs of nearly one in five residents."

They should strongly consider diversifying the facilities that would be offered. Creating a copy of the facilities that already exist within a 15 minute drive should be avoided. I understand that swimming in important as so many people take part in it. However, please diversity other sports that this facility offers.

"The tennis courts that currently exist in the NE are constructed without following any best practices. It's always either too cold to play with snow on the ground (nothing any of us can change). However, even when it's sunny, it too windy to play at these outdoor courts as there are no trees around the courts we have have.

I strongly believe that Calgary has the potential to create the next Layla Fernandez or Raonic or Auger-Aliassime or Shapopalov or Andreescu or Pospisil or Daniel Nestor. The ATP Challenger tennis tournament that we have in Calgary, which started about 5 years ago, can easily become an ATP 1000, which is second highest tier of tennis tournaments in the world, in a decade or so, bringing in much needed sports tourism to Calgary. In fact, I strongly believe that Calgary is well positioned to bring in a women's tennis tournament as well. All we need is some interest from the City in this magnificent sport.

Students can use their skills to get scholarships around several Canadian and US universities. Even for young adults or people in their 40s or 50s, research shows that those who take up tennis during this time of their life tend to stick with the sport till they are in their 80s or even 90s, bringing immense health benefits to these individuals, and notably saving tax dollars in reduced health spendings on the province's part. This can't be said about a lot of the other sports that already have so many indoor facilities in the north already. I urge you to diversify and not go with the same sports that already have ample facilities on the north side of Calgary. Doing this would simply leave out a large segment of the community out. There already are multiple indoor badminton and basketball courts within 10 minutes' drive of the proposed facility. When it comes to cricket, NE already has three pitches, which is more than enough the accommodate the current demand. Please give us the much needed indoor tennis courts."

Dance studios are extremely important

Pool and liberty

Accessibility and parking, will there be accessibility for those without cars to get there from surrounding communities, will there be enough space for the amount of people that want to use the facility, how will it remain organized and culturally appropriate? Will the opinions of the cultural groups be considered? Will the staff be able to communicate and understand the culture ?

Planning it all under one roof would be great. The timings of YMCA Saddletowne used to be from 8 AM, which wasnt enough. Preference of opening hours for 6 AM, like the YMCA SETON and Quarry Park.

Connectivity through walking & cycling pathways

Swimming lanes was not included in water activities, currently the community centres I go too are to focused on children and seniors seem to be overlooked or it assumed that they only do things during the day, I get tired that most evening times are used for children

It needs to be done as the population is increasing rapidly and It is need of hour that the recreational centre should come in the community to gove people a healty living style in this stressful time.

Try to make it best place in the city so that people don’t claim that city do discrimination in NE .

"Transit and Parking: Good access to public transportation and sufficient parking (including for bikes) is essential, especially for those who don’t drive.

Green and Outdoor Areas: Outdoor recreation space, like playgrounds, sports fields, or community gardens, would help residents connect with nature and each other."

Easy access and cheap pass prices for everyone

"Trying to set the fees that can be afforded by everyone.

If its too expensive, people might avoid using it at all as we already have gyms near by."

It should be big space and include everyone

Keep children in mind when planning. Due to long winters it is very difficult for kids to play outside, families have to rely on Rec centers, so main focus should be activities for children

Diversity of people.

We need more greenery and green space. We need to alleviate the congestion and pollution

I know budget is a tough decider for a lot of things, but maybe it can be a slow and eventual build towards a great recreation centre

Parking, Transit, Inclusiveness , Accessibility

Have it fitness focused. [removed]

Appropriate size parking space for cars not like you can’t open a car door without hitting another car.

it should accommodate the area, considering growing number of population in the area, it should not be expensive, enough parking space

Parking, cycle and bike stand, near to bus stand

"Should have good parking space to accommodate patrons.

May be a library within the building."

everything

"Please develop it as fast as possible.

Grounds maintenance and housekeeping is must to upkeep

People coming around just to spend some time, watch others do stuff and play cards should have a separate space, hence I feel campus style based centre would be great so activities are concentrated and like minded people connect strongly"

Transit access, parking spaces, working hours

Cleanliness and community friendly

Space for parking and size of the building

Make it leisure centre like village square. We need more those kind of places

PLACE FOR DOGS TO PLAY

I want one near Saddleridge area. We dont even have a playground place where the kids could play and learn

Bus stop should be nearby, with a shelter. Bike racks. Lockers. Community board inside for flyers and posters.

Easily accessible with cars, transit and walking. Having enough parking spots as well

Library services. Safety, parking, lighting

Na

A village-inspired setting interwoven with natural elements such as forests, ponds, and shrubs.

Consider what we already have in other community centres and what we don't yet have in the city. There are plenty of facilities with fancy pools and gyms, but not so much focus has been put on bringing together non athletes (e.g art, cooking events), which is typical of many women of ethnic backgrounds. Classes like kayak in a pool is something unique we can't get anywhere else. Look at statistics for demographics of users of current community centers, and think of about all the ppl who are not there - what can we do to include them?

"Diversity of athletic activities

-more courts

-more activities"

Parking area to comfortably park bigger vehicles..take reference from Costco parking

Place selection should be accessible with public transport Professional coaches should be hired for proper training in various activities

Just have enough space to accommodate the people of the community's as the other facilities always get overcrowded and filled and have some nice slides and things to play in the pool area

No need to go fancy. I know that budget is the most important factor here. As long as you can provide swimming pool and self defense lessons as well as music lessons I guess

Another recreation centre in the northwest

Skyview community has grown big and not it is bit settled. We also have so many neighbour communities so everyone can take advantage of it.

Outdoor soccer field

Swimming and tennis

less charges to local peolple

All areas should have more and more extra space to sit and drinking water facilities with washrooms

Add very big pool in facility. No like genisis were pool small. Make big Green building (environmentally friendly). Transit accessible. Make the pool and other parts of the facility accessible for wheelchair users. Make programming for seniors. Make programming for young adults (18-35). Open a community hub. Solar power and heat pumps.

The city should consider creating a space that is easy to navigate and safe for all ages. Our area has many children so their safety is important

Big space

Aesthetics

Have some more kids friendly things , also gym is important to get people in shape , swimming pool is also important

Safety is important - 18+ supervisors necessary. Also kind staff.

"Okay, last question it asked me if I want one building or multiple small buildings, truthfully, I'd prefer whatever allowed for better parking.

As for other considerations: make sure that whatever is hosted there will not be loud and disruptive for people not participating and living nearby; ensure that traffic to and from the centre will not impede local residents; and ensure adequate planning of surrounding areas. (E.g. roads and traffic infrastructure has not kept pace with the population growth in this area as it is, and the last thing we need is for the rec centre to exacerbate that problem before they can fix it.)"

Pickle ball courts, tennis courts, and paddle courts dedicated or subsidized transit transit transit....get youth off streets and access to the hubs without barriers like fares and transportation to the hub

City should consider this space is easier to access from multiple sites like there should be multiple areas where people can enter or leave the space to avoid traffic jams and city should hire more people for it's cleanliness as I attended village square pool and it's cleanliness is not upto the mark.

Must have a large parking space

Must have swimming pool and no appeasement of prayer room. This space should not be used for prayer rooms. Must have a lot of kids activity.

AFFORDABLE FOR ALL

Have a few different layouts once you have gathered your feedback and reach out again to the community with a few options. So we have a visual aid to decide what looks and feels best for the new community center in Skyview .

Build it well and amazing so we can enjoy our community

Providing appropriate facilities as per the community request

The community around, the nature abd the environment around the hub. Transit accessibility and retail stores nearby.

Parking and accessibility traffic

Modern equipments

Lessons would be affordable and accessible to public transit

Enough parking lot, transit like train station in skyview.

Should have lots of parking

Do not delay to too long. Make it at the earliest possible time frame

How to maintain

Parking, Transit, Cost to the taxpayers. Security. Maintenance. Size: our community is growing rapidly.

That this should be a safe place for all, I think having resources to help unhousrd people and people who needs food banks woudl also be a helpful service to anyone who needs it.

parking space and preference to members living in certain radius

Swimming and concert centre

Have enough space with enough parking spots would be really big suggestion as usually in north east, city never gets the number right. There are a lot of communities and very few facilities. Please plan accordingly.

have a swimming pool and gym

Take lessons from Genesis Centre

The City should prioritize accessibility, affordability, and cultural inclusivity when planning the new hub in Skyview Ranch. It’s important to engage local residents—especially youth, seniors, and newcomers—in the planning process to ensure the hub reflects the community's diverse needs. Consideration should be given to safe transportation access (walking paths, bike lanes, and public transit), environmentally sustainable design, and programming that supports physical, mental, and social well-being. Creating a welcoming space where people can gather, learn, and connect will be key to its long-term success

Parking

Sustainable Design: Incorporate eco-friendly practices, such as energy-efficient systems, recycling facilities, and green spaces.

Inclusive Design: Ensure the facility is accessible to people of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds.

Family-Friendly Features: Design spaces that cater to families, such as playgrounds, family rooms, and kid-friendly programs.

Technology Integration: Provide tech-enabled features like Wi-Fi, digital signage, and virtual program options.

Seasonal Adaptability: Plan for both indoor and outdoor spaces that can be used year-round, with options for winter activities.

Partnerships with Local Organizations: Collaborate with local groups, schools, and businesses for shared programs and resources.

Maintenance and Longevity: Ensure the building and equipment are durable and easy to maintain over time.

Social Spaces: Create areas for socializing, such as lounges or outdoor seating, to encourage community interaction.

Noise Control: Consider noise levels, especially if the hub is near residential areas, and plan for soundproofing if needed.

Do as soon as possible

Some others things which I might don't know but usfull for others

Very good idea

In your water use Pick 5 question, you never offered swimming laps as an option- I no longer swim competitively but still want to have dedicated lanes that are for adult swim, not playing around. I currently drive to Airdrie to use their public pool to swim laps.

It should have something for everyone

Thats it

I would request free parking and large parking space

Try to focus on things that are limited in the northeast area. Include activities / environments that are rarely found here and limit activities that can be found in other rec centres.

Gym should be free

We want 24 hour gym and swimmimg pool access. As working parents this will enhance our mental and physical health

Parking, golf simulator, golf driving range , tech

Learning centre or study facility or library

Big enough to accommodate the population

Aesthetics

The distance of the the nearest existing recreation facility is quite far. Skyview community would like to have one recreation facility in the area

Make it big and inclusive to everyone. Very big community here

Make it large so people can enjoy the space specially in the North East side we are the least not develop area in the city that's why NE have a least reputation in 4 quadrant of calgary

Outside -Parks and green spaces can be designed to reflect cultural traditions, as highlighted in the city's.

The City should consider accessibility for all, including families, seniors, and people with disabilities. It should also include spaces for different cultural groups, eco-friendly features, and areas for both social and individual activities.

"Public Library

Food Court"

We have many open space gardens & kids play area available. So think about winter time events like indoor play area etc.

I think we should have late night timings for the center. It should start around 5:30 in the morning and close at 10 in night.

The wasted tax payer money on a third community centre in that area and roads that can't be driven on to get to that area

Safety, proper ventillation, washrooms, food kiosk, first aid supplies. Vento machines

It should be managed well where every community member feels safe. Privacy for females is must Parking place must be enough.

Make it big enough to use as we have long winters and most people look for indoor activities to stay healthy and active. Don't waste space on things that will hardly get used like meeting rooms. We need big gym and swimming area to accommodate growing population in NE that doesnt have a lot of recreational space.

Bigger space with nice garden outside.

Ball hockey rink

"A good , attractive, affordable fees.

Yes maintaining such a large facility could be hectic or difficult, but much needed thing though."

"1. Community Needs Assessment:

The City should conduct detailed engagement with diverse community groups to ensure the hub reflects the needs of all residents — including youth, seniors, newcomers, and people with disabilities.

2. Accessibility & Inclusivity:

Ensure the facility is fully accessible and inclusive, with gender-neutral washrooms, multi-faith prayer/meditation spaces, and programs in multiple languages.

3. Transportation & Parking:

Consider safe, walkable access routes, public transit connectivity, and adequate parking (including for bicycles and EVs).

4. Multi-Use & Future-Proofing:

Design flexible spaces that can adapt to changing demographics and community needs — such as convertible sports courts, multipurpose rooms, and green spaces.

5. Environmental Sustainability:

Incorporate green building standards (like LEED), solar energy, water conservation systems, and local landscaping to promote environmental stewardship.

6. Safety & Security:

Design with CPTED (Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design) principles to create a welcoming and safe environment at all hours.

7. Programming & Partnerships:

When planning the new recreation and community hub in Skyview Ranch, The City should consider the diverse needs of the growing population, including families, youth, seniors, and newcomers. The space should be flexible and multipurpose, offering programs for all ages and cultures, and designed to be inclusive and accessible to everyone. Key features to include are indoor sports facilities, a fitness centre, meeting and event rooms, a library or study area, childcare services, and outdoor green spaces. The City should also prioritize safety, affordability, and sustainability, and actively involve community members in the planning process to ensure it truly reflects their needs and values.

lawn tennis and badminton courts with membership and private swimming pools for aquatic learners

Must have large parking lot and outs walking and running path

All sports, recreational facilities should be provided

Tennis courts and bigger library. Existing library has limited books and can't even return books there.

Getting the funding underway so this can be a reality sooner rather than later?

Big parking lot is a must plus it should match the modern facilities like the one in Rocky Ridge. Plus more classes should be available

It's good thing to take ideas of living community in areas there is no public facility as genesis center in this area, having one will beenfit the community a lot.

Ample parking and wide range of options

Access to nearby communities

multiple synthetic badminton and tennis courts

Make it a good space. NE has been lacking a good space for decades. Now is the opportunity for the city to pay attention to this “backward area- with poor focus from the city”. Give it the due attention and make the facility one of the best in Canada.
