

Ramsay-Inglewood Public Realm Improvements 2025 End of year update

The first construction season is wrapping up for the Ramsay-Inglewood Public Realm Improvements, and we made significant progress – especially in the Ramsay area.

Before the holidays begin, our contractor is cleaning up the project area to reopen roads, sidewalks, pathways and restore on-street parking over the winter. You may see small sections of sidewalk patched with temporary asphalt to make the space useable over the winter season. You may also see small areas filled with gravel, leveling out low spots to the surrounding sidewalk.

In the spring, these low spots will be filled in with landscaping such as natural turf and reclaimed bricks from the Eau Claire redevelopment site. Other exciting character and identity features pay tribute to the communities' historic relationship with the Canadian Pacific Railroad, including large architectural timber posts, pergolas and timber benches that mimic large railroad ties.

Some of these features can already be seen in the Ramsay area and should continue to take shape as the remaining landscaping is completed, starting again next Spring.

What we completed this year

In 2025, we focused the public realm construction on 11 Street S.E. in Ramsay as well as 11 Street in Inglewood to improve vehicle, pedestrian, and wheeling traffic.

- Installed a multi-use pathway in Ramsay along with wider sidewalks and accessible wheelchair and crossing locations.
- Installed a new traffic signal at 11 Street and 9 Avenue S.E. improving safety and vehicle access to 9 Avenue from 11 Street S.E.
- Installed a new traffic signal at 11 Street and 18 Avenue S.E. improving wheeling connectivity between the new multi-use pathway and the CPKC underpass, as well as improving access for vehicles to 11 Street from 18 Avenue S.E.
- New protected on-street parking along 11 Street S.E. between 9 Avenue and 11 Avenue S.E. which are available for use.
- Rebuilt the aging roadway through the CPKC underpass and Ramsay, between 11 Avenue to 21 Avenue S.E.

11 Street S.E. Road reconstruction and paving work

As part of the road reconstruction on 11 Street, we currently only have the base layer of asphalt in place.

While it's not the final condition, it can be typical on paving projects to expose the base layer to freeze-thaw cycles and let it settle before putting down the top lift (or final layer) of asphalt. This approach helps ensure a high-quality, long-lasting roadway.

As a result, we still have some manholes raised higher than the current road surface. The ramps around them, while bumpy, help protect both vehicles and the manholes from damage before we install the top layer of asphalt.

Looking ahead to 2026

The focus shifts to Inglewood in Spring 2026, including remaining work on 11 Street S.E. as well as starting new work along 12 Street S.E. between the Zoo bridge and the 11 Avenue S.E. underpass. We will also return to Ramsay in 2026 to finish landscaping, including planting shrubs and placement of reclaimed brick pavers in the amenity zones.

The original substantial completion target for the Ramsay-Inglewood Public Realm Improvements project was Spring 2027. To support better local business continuity during construction, installing integrated soil cells for enhanced drainage and tree growth, and finding some underground surprises – like unearthing the original streetcar tracks from 1945 – we now anticipate wrapping up construction in Summer 2027.
